

All I need from you

Everyone
Sing

One touch, one smile, one deep embrace, is all I need from you

One touch, one smile, one deep embrace, is all I need from you

When you gazed into my eyes, a thousand suns blazed in me

When you whispered gentle words, the meaning of life resounded in me

As, you held, me in your arms, I became your chosen one

One touch, one smile, one deep embrace, is all I need from you

One touch, one smile, one deep embrace, is all I need from you

The more your love seemed only for me, the more all others were less than me

The more my pride grew in me, the more you turned away from me

If, I am, your chosen one, why won't you smile at me?

One touch, one smile, one deep embrace, is all I need from you

One touch, one smile, one deep embrace, is all I need from you

The lila with its joy and pain, soon revealed its meaning to me

The beggar and the thieving man, the actress and the lonely king

All, are, your chosen ones, all that long for you

One touch, one smile, one deep embrace, is all I need from you

One touch, one smile, one deep embrace, is all I need from you

Show me how to spread your care, and leave the payback behind

Show me how to be like you, and leave my karma behind
